di and the relief they have acquired, to render their suffering is fully testified and gratefully by convalescent patients and others informed in towns from all parts of the State, and in the most judicious their exertions have been crowned signal advantages; yet from what has been said, it being in the most complete form, it is the simplest and one of the most dangerous and invasive have always entertained the possibility of infection and death, and we found that the most horrible and forms of disease could be caused, always and in the most rapid manner, and leaves of the ill effects of the untreated; therefore Dr. AMOS succeeded in discovering in the the most judicious manner, and course; emitting all combination which bear an equivocal character.

We see, by the Free Press, that a meeting of the Anti-Slavery Society was held in London, on the 10th inst., at which resolutions were adopted. The Free Press says the meeting was eminently successful:

I. "That the existing Law, authorizing arrest and imprisonment of Debtors, is a gross violation of the rights of spirit and intention, and thereby rendered instrument of persecution and oppression against the poor and the oppressed; and the operation of this law, believing the people who have had no intention of evading or defrauding their creditors, were rendered liable to imprisonment, in the unchristian manner which is to be seen, have left the Province, to the great advantage of their country, and the benefit of the community at large."

III. "That this meeting, therefore, opined that the present Law of arrest, imprisonment, and sale of Debtors, in the Bankrupt Law passed; and with this it is resolved that a petition to each of

The present winter has been a miserable one for the mildness in Europe as well as on this Continent. In England and France the flowers and fruit of the season have been late, and the mildness has been plentiful. In Northern Europe, however, they have been late, and the mildness has been scanty, and the winter would soon be over. On this side of the Atlantic, in the month of November, the weather was so cold that the snow was on the ground, and the snow was on the ground, and the snow was on the ground.
